Chad	1995	DM1995	1995: SEPARATES; unperforated: 150F, Amanita phalloides; 170F, Phallus impudicus; 200F, Lycoperdon perlatum; 350F, Hydnum repandum; 450F, Agaricus bisporus; 800F, Cortinarius orellanus. PLUS separates (perforated) of the 170, 200 and 350F stamps overprinted in silver for the 1996 Taipei stamp festival. PLUS a block of all six stamps in a collective sheet, 116 x 108 mm, TWO copies, one perforated, one unperforated. PLUS a set of six minisheets 90 x 112 mm, each containing a block of four copies of each of the stamps listed above. PLUS a minisheet, 112 x 82 mm, with a 1500F stamp (Pleurotus ostreatus), two copies, one perforated, one unperforated. PLUS sets of six minisheets, 83 x 105 mm, in which one of the six stamps of the main series is mounted; two sets, one perforated, one unperforated.
Chad	1996	DM1996	1996: Minisheet, 130 x 90 mm, block of four 400F stamps; main image is a butterfly, but each stamp bears a good (identified) image of a fungus: Amanita phalloides, Cortinarius praestans, Phallus impudicus and Lycoperdon perlatum. PLUS a minisheet, 130 x 90 mm, with a block of four 650F stamps, the stamps only show butterflies, but the sheet has a good image labelled Agrocybe (Pholiota) aegerita in bottom right corner. PLUS a souvenir sheet, 114 x 88 mm, with a single 2000F stamp showing a large butterfly, the sheet having a decent image of Amanita rubescens at bottom left.
Chad	1998	DM1998	1998: Collective sheet, 104 x 110 mm, with six 475F stamps (2 x 3), all horiz.: Coprinus atramentarius, Romaria botrytis, Aleuria aurantia, Amanita muscaria, Macrolepiota rhacodes, Helvella crispa. Russian Federation	1994	DM1994	Batumi is a seaside city on the Black Sea coast and capital of Adjara, an autonomous republic in southwest Georgia. When the USSR collapsed, Aslan Abashidze was appointed head of Adjara's governing council and subsequently held onto power throughout the unrest of the 1990s. Whilst other regions, such as Abkhazia, attempted to break away from the Georgian state, Adjara maintained an integral part of the Republic's territory. However, due to a fragile security situation, Abashidze was able to exploit the central government's weaknesses and rule the area as a personal fiefdom. In May 2004, he fled the region to Russia as a result of mass protests sparked by the Rose Revolution in Tbilisi. Batumi was also host to the Russian 12th Military Base but the Batumi base was officially handed over to Georgia ahead of schedule on November 13, 2007. Sheet, 121 x 128 mm, of six stamps (horiz.): (a) 10, Chantarelle; 25, Oyster Fungus; 100, Fly agaric; 50, Cultivated mushroom; 300, Sulphur tuft; 200, St. George's mushroom.
